

October 9, 1939.

Mr. Maurer of F. W. Maurer & Sons, Inc., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, came in to complain about unfair competition he is called upon to meet in the manufacture and sale of "shade pulls".

He claims that Harry Edelman and Rose Mfg. Co. both sell rings for less than it costs Maurer to manufacture. Mr. Maurer states that his firm is paying the legal minimum of 25 cents an hour and that it is impossible for Edelman and Rosen to sell their rings at the price they get and still pay 25 cents an hour.
