WILLIAM N. LOUCKS APPOINTED TO CARPET AND RUG COMMITTEE

William N. Loucks, a professor of economics at the University of Pennsylvania, has been appointed as a public member of the Carpet and Rug Industry Committee to fill a place made vacant by the resignation of William E. Simkin of Philadelphia. The change was announced today by Colonel Philip B. Fleming, Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor. (Federal Register, June 18, 1940.)

The first meeting of the committee, scheduled for 10:00 a.m., July 9, will be held in Room 3229 of the Labor Department Building, in Washington. It had originally been announced the meeting would be held in Room 208 of the Hutchins Building, 939 D Street, N. W., Washington.
